

Collation is the character set and ordering rules for text data. If the collations are different comparing data may fail.

